together that the world may know Jesus

“The history of missions is the history of answered prayer.”

- Samuel Zwemer

God has invited us to join him on his grand and glorious mission to reach the world with the transforming message of Jesus Christ. We've been commissioned to “go and make disciples of all nations.” The first step in this great adventure is prayer.

Prayer enables us to send disciples to make disciples who make disciples. It fuels our relationship with God, is instrumental in calling and equipping workers, and is a uniquely powerful tool for drawing the unbelieving world to Christ.

As missionary William Carey once noted, “One of the first, and most important duties which are incumbent upon us, is fervent and united prayer.”

Jesus promised his disciples, “Ask, and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you” (Matthew 7:7). Following Jesus' instruction, we can ask for missionaries to be raised up and for the hearts of the lost to be open to the gospel. We can seek God for wisdom, resources, and ways to demonstrate his great love to the unreached. We can knock on prison doors and expect those sitting in darkness to be set free.

Consider this booklet an opportunity for us to partner together with God, asking, seeking, and knocking, that the world may know Jesus.

Here are some ways in which you can support Multiply's Network of Missional Teams in prayer:

- 1 Praying for workers who are boots-on-the-ground, ministering incarnationally across cultural, political, and religious boundaries.
- 2 Encouraging workers with focused prayer and personal notes to remind them that they are not alone but are part of a caring community of believers.
- 3 Sharing this booklet with your families, small groups, and churches.
- 4 Giving to enable workers to continue serving around the world.

“Prayer lays hold of God's plan and becomes the link between his will and its accomplishment on earth.” - Elisabeth Elliot

Note on Restricted Communication: For our workers and partners that serve in sensitive areas, we use initials or aliases instead of their real names. They each face unique challenges based on various security and safety concerns, so our communication policies are tailored to their particular needs and requests. Also note that some of our key national partners are not included in this directory at all due to heightened concerns. Please pray for those who face challenges like these as they lay down their lives in love and obedience to serve God.

THAILAND

Rebecca Hiebert

rebeccah@multiply.net

Working alongside the Thai MB Conference, Rebecca serves a large team of national church planters in Thailand. She is passionate about teaching the Scriptures and discipling young believers, many of whom face opposition from their families because of their decision to follow Christ.

David & Louise Sinclair-Peters

davesp@multiply.net / louisesp@multiply.net

The Sinclair-Peters are mentoring and training Burmese and Thai pastors and evangelists, planting churches in Thailand and helping to support several agricultural, discipleship, and church-planting projects in Myanmar. Louise also serves as Regional Team Leader for Thailand and Myanmar and serves on the Global Lead Team.

Sandy Fender

sandyf@multiply.net

Presently, Sandra is working remotely with the ministries in Chiang Mai, Thailand. She is responsible for the financial reporting and partnership development for both Chiang Mai Promise and Naomi House projects. In North America, Sandra is serving in a rural community, assisting at various local churches as well as helping the many seniors in the area.

Jeremy & Adrienne Penner

jeremyp@multiply.net
adriennep@multiply.net

The Penners are sharing the Gospel, making disciples, serving with and empowering national leaders, and working toward a multiplication of new churches among the Myanmar migrant worker communities of Thailand. They have 3 kids: Elya, Jaelyn, and Caleb.

Cynthia Friesen

cynthiaf@multiply.net

Cynthia serves alongside Pastor Wanchai and his family, and supports the TMBCA leaders through church planting and discipleship. Her work with local church leaders supports the formation of self-sustaining and culturally relevant fellowship groups. Cynthia is passionate about seeing the least reached nurtured towards long-term spiritual growth within church-plant communities around Chiang Mai, Thailand.

Cecil & Tracy Ramos

cecilr@multiply.net

tracyr@multiply.net

Cecil and Tracy desire to see the power of the Holy Spirit transform the hearts and the lives of people in the community of Phan Thong (Chonburi). They work alongside national leaders to disciple local believers and train emerging leaders. Their sons, Solas and Judah, are busy studying, maintaining friendships in Thailand and around the world, and asking God how he wants to use their gifts locally.

Ozz & Sara Kumrod-Fast

sfast@multiply.net

wanchaik@multiply.net

Based in Chiang Mai, Thailand, this family works alongside national leaders to share the Gospel, plant churches and disciple emerging leaders who then serve in the local church and on evangelistic teams. Ozz also serves as the president of the Thailand MB Church Association and teaches Missional Leadership Training (MLT) throughout Thailand. They have four children: Elijah, Ezekiel, Ezra, Elisha.

Carmen Owen

carmeno@multiply.net

Carmen serves alongside Siriwan and Wichian Trakunhan, national partners leading the Naomi House discipleship center and social enterprise. Naomi House serves marginalized people groups from Northern Thailand, including released juvenile offenders and oppressed women and families. She lives with her husband, Andy, and their family in Wichita, Kansas.

Liam & Lindsay Bull

liamb@multiply.net

Liam and Lindsay have completed their assignment in Thailand and are now seeking God about a long-term call to Asia.

“The best bit of advice I ever received about prayer was this: keep it simple, keep it real, keep it up.”

– Pete Greig, How to Pray

Middle East & North Africa

Nasser al 'Qahtani

nassera@multiply.net

Nasser al'Qahtani serves as the regional leader of a growing network of ministries across the Middle East and North Africa.
